HELLO SAME FORT WORTH AND DALLAS POST MEMBERS!

My name is Seb Clements and I am serving as the Volunteer Coordinator for the 2011 JETC Conference, May 24-27 at the Gaylord Texan Resort and Convention Center in Grapevine. We are expecting this to be great conference with nearly a week full of the incredible technical program, informational expo, and the various events (technical tours, networking opportunities, social events, and more). With this and the tremendous turnout we are expecting this year at the conference, there is a large need for volunteers!!! There is a wide variety of ways that you and/or your staff can participate in the volunteer efforts and I encourage all of you to help out.

Registration on the JETC website is now available, so please go online to register. Whether you are already registered or planning to register as an exhibitor or attendee, YOU STILL NEED TO REGISTER AS A VOLUNTEER. There is also an option to register as a volunteer only. When you go online to fill out your registration, simply check the box that you will be volunteering. If you are already registered, you can re-enter your registration through the attendee or exhibitor service center (depending on where you registered) and then add this to your existing registration. Please do not create two registrations. For volunteering you will get a free shirt as well as help out your local post! If you do not register, you will NOT get a shirt. We are still looking into questions regarding parking, discounted registrations for volunteers, etc.

Depending on your response to this and the online registration, specific time slots will be determined to work around your availability. Also, please forward this message on to others within your organization who may not have received this email! There is no such thing as too many volunteers and you will help us make this JETC Conference one of the best yet if you are able to help! Thank you very much and have a great day.
